It has been said that a picture is worth a thousand years. Martin Luther believed in the power of the Word to accomplish that which it stated. Luther had such a high esteem for the Word that he personally translated the Old Testament from Hebrew and the New Testament from Greek into German, the language of Luther's people. He also created a worship service that could be understood by any German instead of Latin which few could understand, Luther revealed his esteem for the printed word. Luther is the most prolific author of all time; his complete works are about 100 books. This being said, in the July Concordia newsletter, we learned of Luther's high regard for hymns. He believed the combination of words and music was a powerful combination of the visual mated with the musical for the communicating of the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

Luther also had an esteem for art to communicate the gospel. I pass on the following article to you that explains Luther's seal and its significance:

The first version was used in Luther's writings in the 1520s for the first time, and was in black and white, with Luther's initials.

A colorized rendition of the seal began appearing as printers began to include color images in Luther's works. Each one was laboriously painted by hand.

The most enduring symbol of the Lutheran Reformation is the seal that Luther himself designed to represent his theology. By the early 1520s, this seal begins to appear on the title page of Luther's works.

Here is how Luther himself explained its meaning:

First, there is a black cross in a heart that remains its natural color. This is to remind me that it is faith in the Crucified One that saves us. Anyone who believes from the heart will be justified (Romans 10:10). It is a black cross, which mortifies and causes pain, but it leaves the heart its natural color. It doesn't destroy nature, that is to say, it does not kill us but keeps us alive, for the just shall live by faith in the Crucified One (Romans 1:17). The heart should stand in the middle of a white rose. This is to show that faith gives joy, comfort, and peace—it puts the believer into a white, joyous rose. Faith does not give peace and joy like the world gives (John 14:27). This is why the rose must be white, not red. White is the color of the spirits and angels (cf. Matthew 28:3; John 20:12). This rose should stand in a sky-blue field, symbolizing that a joyful spirit and faith is a beginning of heavenly, future joy, which begins now, but is grasped in hope, not yet fully revealed. Around the field of blue is a golden ring to symbolize that blessedness in heaven lasts forever and has no end. Heavenly blessedness is exquisite, beyond all joy and better than any possessions, just as gold is the most valuable and precious metal.

Jane Bekkerus 1917-2017

Jane Bekkerus, age 99, of Moorhead MN, passed away peacefully on Tuesday, July 4, 2017. She was born Ruth Jane Preston on October 7, 1917.

Jane admired everything about life; from traveling throughout the Midwest to starting a family of her own. In her free time she enjoyed going up north to the family cabin, reading devotionals, watching films, and learning about her own family history. Genealogy had been a long time passion of Jane's and kept her very busy. Most of all she loved being around family and friends.

Jane left behind a remarkable imprint that will be cherished and missed by many.

She was preceded in death by her husband of 53 years, Harold "Bek" Bekkerus; beloved son, Theodore "Teddy"; brothers, Jim and Bill Preston; and sister, Molly B. Flood.

She is survived by sister Mary Gwynn (John); Judy Bekkerus; three grandchildren Bonnie Bekkerus (Steve), Brenda Cole (Donnie), and Beth LaCoursiere (Joe); seven great-grandchildren, Tasha (Jason), Alyce, JoJo (Devante), Atom, Alexa, Ana and Sarenna; three great-great grandchildren, Audrey, Jacob and Amelia; and many loved ones.

Visitation and the funeral were held at Scandia Lutheran on Monday, July 10th. She was buried next to her husband in Concordia's Cemetery.

Solar Eclipse August 21, 2017

A solar eclipse occurs when the moon is perfectly positioned between the earth and the sun. On August 21, the eclipse will be visible from coast to coast. The last time this happened was in 1979, and it won't happen again until 2045.

The Red River Valley is a little too far north to experience a total eclipse, but with about 85% coverage, it will still be a memorable event. In Fargo-Moorhead the eclipse will begin at 11:38 a.m, reach maximum coverage at 12:59 and end at 2:20 p.m. To see the total eclipse, you'll need to drive down to Lincoln, Nebraska or Columbia Missouri.

The next big "sky event" will be a total lunar eclipse on January 31, 2018.
